

Interacting Within

INTERACTING WITHIN sounds like our interaction within the NEC teams was a valuable learning experience. Engaging with peers from different institutions like St. Joseph Engineering College, Chennai, and Dr. Abdul Kalam College of Science and Technology have provided fresh perspectives on team coordination, task management, and overcoming challenges. It's inspiring to hear about the collaborative experiences shared during the NEC interactions. Isha, the team leader from St. Joseph Engineering College, Chennai, and highlighting team coordination reflects the importance of working together efficiently to tackle challenges. Similarly, the team leader from Dr. A P J College of Technology emphasizing task submission and task-sharing underscores the value of time management and delegation in achieving project milestones.
